Educator Guide for K-3 Students
Carmen’s Corner Episode 5: Advocacy

Overview
After watching the fifth episode of Carmen’s Corner featuring the Kids Against Bullying puppets, use the student worksheets to engage your students (and the adults in their lives) to think about who we should speak to when we need help and how to speak up for ourselves and for others. As Carmen says, “Don’t give up! Keep reaching out until you get the help you need.”

Goal
To help K-3 students define advocacy and self-advocacy, as well as learn about effective ways to find someone to help themselves or others.

Materials needed
Internet access if worksheet is to be printed out. You will also need a printer, paper, pencils, crayons, or other drawing tools.

Steps to use with in-classroom or distance learning
1. Have students watch Carmen’s Corner, Episode 5, Part A [https://tinyurl.com/CarmensCornerEp5PartA] and Part B [https://tinyurl.com/CarmensCornerEp5PartB]. Part A is approximately 8:18 minutes long and Part B is approximately 7:34 minutes long. The episodes cover the following topics in this order (timestamps are shown after each section to simplify instruction):
   a. Part A: Welcome! [0:35]
   b. Word of the Day: coraje/courage [1:02]
   c. Weekday Update with Sally: Sally shares some different ways that kids can reach out to adults to ask for what they need. [2:07]
   d. ¿Sabes qué?: Miguel hosts a gameshow-style segment that challenges viewers to decide if what’s happening is TELLING or TATTLING. [3:37]
   e. BRAIN BREAK! This marks the end of Part A. [7:04]
   f. Part B: Ask Carmen. Carmen answers a question from Callie about how she can prevent bullying at her school. [0:13]
   g. Special Guest: Elizabeth from Burton Tech High School. Viewers meet high school student Elizabeth, who is part of a student group at her school called “Mentors and Protectors” (MAPs). MAPs students are advocates for all students at their school and help everyone feel cared for and safe. [1:12]
h. Adventures in Advocacy: Brad learns that what he was doing was bullying and discovers that he has the superpowers of kindness, acceptance, and inclusion to change how he acts. [4:04]

i. Farewell [6:04]

2. Send or distribute the appropriate worksheet to students:

   a. At home: Parents can participate by watching the video, recording their child’s answers, or contributing an idea.

   b. In the classroom: First, de brief the video with a class discussion and then have students start the handout, revisiting sections with class discussion when necessary.

3. After worksheets are done, discuss in a class meeting and let students talk about their answers.

4. After worksheets are handed in or sent back, create a class idea map of people that students can seek out if they need help and simple ways to have difficult conversations with adults.

Notes for educators

Worksheet A:
The primary emphasis of this worksheet is on learning what we all can do to help ourselves and others (self-advocacy and advocacy). The questions can be completed with adult assistance.

Worksheet B:
This worksheet emphasizes what we all can do to advocate for ourselves and others. This worksheet is meant to be completed by the student.

“Speak up, reach out, and be a friend!”
